

KYOTO NOW!

A stylized graphic featuring three black smokestacks at the bottom. From each stack, a plume of smoke rises, rendered in a vibrant, wavy gradient of red, pink, and yellow. The background is a solid, bright yellow.

The KYOTO PROTOCOL is an international framework to reduce greenhouse gas emissions in an attempt to mitigate global climate change. Because of its ties to big businesses, the Bush administration refuses to acknowledge this crucial international environmental policy. The U.S. must act now!

For more information visit us at <http://www.rso.cornell.edu/kyotonow/index.html>